Scotch Reform in British Parliament—Hume, the Spiritualist—Pope of Rome Solicits Soldiers from America, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

SCOTCH REFORM BILL.

LONDON, May 22.—The dispatch concerning the action of the Government on the question of Scotch reform in the House of Commons last night was inaccurate. The following is a correct report:

Mr. Baxter, member for Montrose, on Monday night moved, as an amendment to the Scotch reform bill, that the number of Scotch members of the House of Commons be increased by taking the franchise from some of the small English boroughs. This amendment, which was opposed by the Ministry on Monday night but carried on a division, was last night accepted. The Premier subsequently proposed on the part of the Ministry a new clause providing that persons excused from payment of rates by reason of their poverty, be not entitled to vote. The farther consideration of the bill was then postponed.

CASE OF HOME, THE SPIRITUALIST.

LONDON, May 22.—The case of Home, the spiritualist, has been decided by the Court of Chancery. The decision requires Home to repay Mrs. Lyons the sum of sixty thousand pounds, and costs, on the ground that undue influence and hallucinations, engendered by him, induced her course of action.

METHODISM.

Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—Eighteenth Day.—The Chair was occupied by Bishop Janes.

Resolutions were offered by Rev J. W. Talley, of Alabama, that the General Conference be composed of an equal number of ministers and laymen. Referred.

Rev. Mr. Coggshall, of Michigan, to organize District Appeal Courts, for trials of appeals. Referred.

The Committee on the Seamen's Friend Society submitted a report, recommending the continued co-operation of the M. E. Church with the society and its branches. Adopted.

The report of the Committee on Revisals was read, recommending that the discipline be so amended as to make laymen eligible to election as book agents. A minority report on the same subject was read, adverse to such a change in discipline.

After considerable discussion the report of the Committee on Episcopacy was read, being adverse to the election of a Missionary Bishop. The report was adopted. The recommendation of the Committee that no additional Bishop should be elected at this time, was also adopted, the result being greeted with applause.

The Committee on Book Concerns reported against the revival of a national magazine, or the establishment of any similar periodical; also, against reducing the number of church papers. Tabled and ordered to be printed.

Rev. G. D. Carrow, of Philadelphia, to request the Committee on Book Concerns to consider and report the expediency of elevating the character and increasing the efficiency of official newspapers. Referred.

By Rev. D. Brown, of Washington Conference, colored—Against receiving any of the delegates of the Zion or African M. E. Church as Bishops. Referred.

The Convention voted that a call for the resolutions be dispensed with after to-day. The subject was laid over and the Convention adjourned till to-morrow.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Bishop Morris, Sen., was excused from active service except so far as his health may allow.

Bishop Baker, of New Hampshire, was allowed also to do such work during the next term as his impaired health may permit.

A paper was presented and read from certain laymen in opposition to adoption of lay delegations. Referred to committee on that subject.

The report of the Committee on Sunday Schools was read. It recommends an increase of books adapted to Sunday school purposes, the continuance of the Sunday School Journal in its present form, and admission of life members of the Society to meetings of the Board of Managers.

Dr. Haven, chairman of the Committee on Lay Delegation, presented and read a report on petitioners for the adoption of some plan of lay representation. The number up to this time is 25,509. Eleven Conferences have expressed their unqualified approval of the principle, and twenty have expressed their readiness to grant it upon the demand of the people. Other Conferences have expressed no decided views on the subject. The General Conference has twice voted in favor of the principle. Once it had been submitted to a popular vote and had failed, by a small minority vote having been taken amid the excitement of the late war, when the people generally were too much concerned about the preservation of the national life to give the subject much attention. Those who memorialize the General Conference on this subject believe that this highest judiciatery of the Church is called to consider questions in which the laity are equally interested with the clergy and equally entitled to have a voice. They repudiate the idea that they seek admission to the councils of the church for the purpose of changing its policy, destroying its itinerancy, or undermining its episcopacy, but claim to have as deep and genuine affection for the church as the ministry and as deep an interest in its welfare. The report then considered the objections to the proposed change, the first being that it was unconstitutional. This objection was shown to be wholly untenable. The second objection, that the influence of the ministry as the divinity would be weakened. It was also shown by an elaborate argument to be weak and inconclusive. The third objection was that there exists no necessity for such a change. The Committee, after careful consideration, recommended the adoption of the measure and submitted a plan providing for the admission of one layman into the General Conferences from each annual Conference, and providing for the admission of not more than thirty laymen to each of the annual Conferences. Ordered to be printed.

A minority report was also presented by Rev. S. M. Merrill against lay representation, which was read and ordered to be printed.

Rev. Singleton T. Jones, colored minister and delegate to the Conference from Zion M. E. Church, was introduced to the Conference.

A paper from the General Conference of that Church was read, expressing a willingness to unite with the M. E. Church, provided it could be done on terms of equality, one stipulation they would make being that their Bishops should be recognized as such, so far at least as to preside over colored Conferences.

The remarks of Mr. Jones were greeted with prolonged applause.

Adjourned.

PRESBYTERIANISM.

Old School Presbyterian General Assembly Report out he Subject of Reunion.

ALBANY, May 22.—The Presbyterian Old School Assembly re-assembled to-day. Some delegates who were not present yesterday presented their credentials.

After the transaction of some business of minor importance, Dr. Bentley, of Steubenville, Ohio, presented the report of the joint committee of the Old and New School branches of the Church on the subject of reunion. These committees were appointed in 1866. They consisted of fifteen members from each body. The report is signed by all but three members, and while they approve it their signatures could not be obtained in time. The report recommended reunion on the following basis.

First—The reunion shall be effected on the doctrine and ecclesiastical basis of our common standard. The Scripture of the Old and New Testaments shall be acknowledged as the inspired Word of God and the only infallible rule of faith and practice. The Confession of Faith shall continue to be received as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures.

Second—All the ministers and churches embraced in the two bodies shall be admitted to the same standing in the united body which they may hold in their respective connections up to the consummation of the union.

Third—The boundaries of the several Presbyteries and Synods shall be adjusted by the General Assembly of the United Church.

Fourth—The official record of the two boundaries of the Church shall be held as making up the one history of the church, and no rule which does not stand approved by both shall be of any authority until reestablished in the united Church, except so far as such rule may affect the rights of property.

Fifth—The corporate rights now held by the two general assemblages shall be consolidated and applied for their several objects as defined by law.

Sixth—There shall be one set of committees of boards for home and foreign missions and the religious enterprises of the Church.

Seventh—As soon as practicable, the General Assembly shall reconstruct and consolidate the several permanent committees and boards which now belong to the two Assemblies.

Eighth—The publications of the Board of Publication Committee shall continue to be issued as at present, leaving it to the Board of Publication of the United Church to revise these issues.

Ninth—Those Theological Seminaries that are now under Assembly control may, if their boards of direction so elect, be transferred to the care of one or more of the adjacent Synods.

Tenth—It is agreed that the Presbyteries possess the right to examine ministers for admission from other Presbyteries, but each Presbytery shall be left free to decide for itself when it shall exercise the right.

Eleventh—It shall be regarded as the duty of all our judicatories, ministers and people in the united Church to study the things which make for peace, to guard against all needless and offensive references to the causes that have divided us.

Twelfth—The terms of the re-union, if they are approved by the General Assemblies of 1868, shall be overtured to the several Presbyteries under their care, and shall be of binding force if they are ratified by three-fourths of the Presbyteries connected with each branch of the Church within one year after they shall have been submitted for approval.

After some discussion it was resolved to take up at once for discussion and consideration this plan for re-union and continue the discussion without other interruption than special orders before made.

Rev. Samuel W. Flesher, of Utica, of the New School Church, and a representative from the joint Convention of 1867, made an earnest and eloquent appeal in behalf of re-union.

The entire afternoon session of the Assembly was occupied in the discussion of the proposed basis of union. Dr. Blanville, Wm. J. Allen, Stewart Mortford, Day, and McLean spoke in favor of union, and Rev. Mr. Smith, Dr. Backus and Rev. Mr. Bergen in opposition. The discussion was earnest, eloquent and was not concluded when the Assembly adjourned until Saturday.

POLITICAL.

The Republican National Nominations.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 22.—The President of the National Convention, General Joseph R. Hawley, will be at Washington on Friday, May 29th, for the purpose of notifying General Grant and Mr. Colfax of their nomination and presenting them with the resolutions of the Convention. All officers of the Convention are requested to be present, and the only practicable notice to them is thus given.

A Committee of the soldiers and sailors will meet there at the same time for the purpose of presenting to General Grant the nomination and platform of the Soldiers' Convention.

New York Press on the Nominations.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The nominations and platform give great satisfaction among the Republicans and War Democrats here. One of the Grant Clubs fired a salute of one hundred guns in honor of the ticket last night.

Speaking of the nominations made at Chicago yesterday, the Herald says Grant is stronger than his party, and Colfax is the most popular man of his party, and the Republican ticket is a strong one.

The Times says the people have faith in Grant, and the selection of Colfax is eminently judicious.

The World says the ticket would have been a strong one five months ago, as it is completely Western and wholly Radical. Grant is without a popular equal, but a successful military career covers a multitude of defects. Colfax is perhaps the most popular man in his party. On the whole the ticket is not a strong one.

The Tribune predicts Grant's electoral and popular majorities will exceed those of Lincoln over M'Clellan. He will receive more votes from reconstructed rebels than any other man in the country. Under the auspices of Grant and Colfax, our country is to achieve speedy restoration to its former prosperity, and more than its former fraternity.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Sun says the Chicago ticket is a strong one and will receive the enthusiastic support of the Republicans.

The Times, while generally approving the platform, thinks, as a matter of policy, not less than propriety, the whole subject of impeachment should have been avoided.

The Herald says the platform is a work of some ingenuity. Like an old campaigner, the Convention moves with a bold step when the ground is found, but treads cautiously and gingerly over the boggy places.

The Commercial supports the ticket, regarding it as insuring victory in advance. It expresses gratification over the defeat of Fenton, condemns the second and eighth sections of the platform, and cordially approves the balance thereof.

The Post eulogises the ticket and says the resolutions, whatever faults a minute criticism might detect in the language or in the form of [illegible] made an explicit and satisfactory declaration of the general sense of justice as applied to the living questions of the day.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Dispatches from all parts of the country report salutes fired and other demonstrations made in honor of the nominations at Chicago.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—The news of the nomination of Grant and Colfax at Chicago, caused much enthusiasm here, and on all hands it was declared a ticket that could not be beaten. There was an immense meeting of the Union League last night, when the nominations were ratified and resolutions passed declaring that good men must be nominated for city and county officers independent of all ring influences, amid great enthusiasm. Two of our Grant clubs fired salutes of one hundred guns each, in honor of the nominations. The platform gives quite as much satisfaction as the candidates. It is just what the mass of the people, irrespective of party, will heartily endorse. Arrangements are in progress for a grand mass ratification meeting. The first meeting of the canvass occurs this evening at the Union Club. Governor Curtin will be one of the speakers.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Gen. Grant was informed of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the Presidency, by the President of the Chicago Convention. A large number of persons, many in prominent public positions, including Congressmen and Secretary Stanton, tendered their congratulations. Speaker Colfax was informed of his nomination, and received the congratulations of many of his friends, his parlors being thronged by Senators and Representatives, and others. Among the callers were members of Grant's staff. The nominees will be serenaded after they shall have been formally informed of their nomination.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The Republicans received the nomination of Grant and Colfax with great enthusiasm. A salute was fired, and a ratification meeting is to be held this evening.

Grant and Colfax Congratulated.

WORCESTER, Mass., May 22.—Gov. Bullock congratulated General Grant and Schuyler Colfax to-day, by telegraph, saying Massachusetts will support them in the victory to come and contribute her full share in the harvest of November.

Enthusiasm in Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, May 22.—The Bulletin, Post and loyal leagues had flags flying in honor of the nomination of Grant.

Rejoicing in Maine.

PORTLAND, Me., May 22.—One hundred guns were fired to-day over the nominations.

By Cable from Havana.

HAVANA, May 22.—The ship Alice Ball, a long time detained at St. Thomas on suspicion of having arms and munitions on board for the Peruvian government, sailed for New York on the 14th. A Spanish war steamer followed to watch her. Security had been given by the Captain of Alice Ball to the Spanish Consul at St. Thomas that the ship would proceed to New York.

Two British men-of-war have arrived at Port-au-Prince. They demand the immediate cessation of the persecution of foreigners. Otherwise they threaten to bombard the town. An American man-of-war is also expected there. It is reported the ships will land troops for the protection of foreigners.

Refugee Haytiens were returning to the country.

Decoration of Graves of Union Dead.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 22.—The soldiers of Adams county, under the auspices of Post 9, Grand Army of the Republic, propose decorating the graves of the heroic dead in the National Cemetery May 30th. It is suggested that the Senior Post of each State capital send flowers.

Gen. Grant and Schuyler Colfax Serenaded—Speeches by Them—Senator Pomeroy—A Forged Letter.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 22, 1868.

GENERAL GRANT SERENADED—HE MAKES A SPEECH.

General Grant was serenaded this evening. After the band played "Hail to the Chief," calls were made for Grant, when he appeared at the door of his residence and was greeted with prolonged cheers.

Representative Boutwell, of Massachusetts, who was standing at his side, addressed him in terms expressive of gratification at his unanimous nomination by the Chicago Convention.

Gen. Grant said:

Gentlemen—Being entirely unaccustomed to public speaking, and without desire to cultivate that power, [laughter,] it is impossible for me to find appropriate language to thank you for this demonstration. All that I can say is this, that to whatever position I may be called by your will I shall endeavor to discharge its duties with fidelity and honesty of purpose. Of rectitude in the performance of public duties you will have to judge for yourselves by my record before you.

Three cheers were then given for General Grant. Hundreds of the crowd then entered the house and congratulated the General.

COLFAX NEXT HONORED.

The procession then moved to the residence of Speaker Colfax. Calls having been made for him, he appeared at the door of his residence in company with Representative Pike, of Maine, who in a few remarks introduced Mr. Colfax. The latter said: My friends, I thank you with all the emotions of a grateful heart for this flattering manifestation of your confidence and regard. I congratulate you on the auspicious opening of the eventful campaign on which we are entering. In the Chicago Convention, representing the entire continental area of the Republic, every State, every territory, every district and every delegation from ocean to ocean declared that their first and only choice for President was Ulysses S. Grant. [Great applause.] Brave and yet unassuming; reticent and yet when necessary firm as the eternal hills, [applause] with every thought and hope and aspiration for his country; with modesty only equalled by his merits, it is not extravagant for me to say that he is to-day the man of all other men in the land "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." [Cheers and great applause.] His name is the very synonym of victory and he will lead the Union hosts to triumph at the [illegible] and the Union armies to triumph in the field. But greater even than the conquerer of Vicksburg and the destroyer of the rebellion, is the glorious inspiration of our noble principles, animated by the sublime truths of the Declaration of Independence. Our banner bears an inscription more magnetic than the names of its standard bearers, which the whole world can see as it floats to the breeze. "Liberty, and loyalty, justice and public safety." Defying all prejudices we are for uplifting the lowly and protecting the oppressed [Applause.] History records to the immortal honor of our organization that it saved the nation and emancipated a race. We struck the fetters from the limbs of the slave and lifted millions into the glorious sunlight of liberty; we placed the emancipated slave on his feet as a man and put into his right hand the ballot to protect his manhood and his rights. We staked our political existence on the reconstruction of the revolted States on the sure and eternal corner stone of loyalty, and we shall triumph. I know there is no holiday contest before us, but with energy and zeal, with principles that humanity will prove, and that I believe God will bless, we shall go through the contest conquering and to conquer, and on the fourth day of March next the peoples' champion will be borne by the people's votes to yonder White House, that, I regret to say, is now dishonored by its unworthy occupant. Then with peace and confidence we may expect our beloved country to enter upon a career of prosperity which shall eclipse the most brilliant annals of our past. I bid you God speed in this work. And now, good night.

Applause followed the conclusion of Mr. Colfax's speech, and the band played an appropriate air. Many persons in the crowd entered the dwelling and extended their congratulations.

THE IMPEACHMENT INVESTIGATION—ALLEGED FORGED LETTER.

Senator Pomeroy exhibited the following letter at the Capital this morning, addressed to the editor of the National Intelligencer:

SIR: I see in the Intelligencer this morning what purports to be a letter of mine, produced and sworn to by Col. Cooper, as follows:

"Senate Chamber—SIR:—I will in good faith carry out any arrangement made with my brother-in-law, Willis Gaylord, to which I am a party.

[Signed.] L. C. POMEROY.

In reply I will state that I never wrote nor authorized the writing of the above, and that the whole is an entire fabrication.

[Signed.] L. C. POMEROY.

The letter alluded to by the Senator is one said to have been written by him to Mr. Cooper, who swore before the Committee of Investigation yesterday that Mr. Pomeroy had approached him with an offer of controlling four Radical votes besides his own, for acquittal, on condition of receiving $40,000.

The Oil "Corner"—The Deliveries all Made.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 22, 1868.

The deliveries of oil as called by the stupendous corner operators have all been promptly made, and contrary to general expectation the greenbacks are forthcoming and the refiners' bills were paid promptly on presentation. This developed the capacity of the corner men to enter into such a stupendous operation with perfect impunity, as make was their object and break was out of the question. The failure of the refiners to have met their contracts would have entailed large losses to them. The financial strength of the corner men is truly surprising and doubtless they will garner strength for a future movement of the same character, which will be perfectly legitimate if made in the same good faith, and with like ability to meet obligations as marked the one which has terminated in a fizzle so far as their profits are concerned.

Defective Commitment. Jacob Parr was committed to jail yesterday by Justice Bracken, of Harrison township, charged with stealing a quantity of lumber. It is not probable he will remain there long if he has either money or friends, as the commitment is defective, the name of the prosecutor not appearing upon it.

Another Victim.

The "confidence" operators have been doing an extensive and remarkably successful business in this city lately, and their tricks have been so thoroughly ventilated and exposed through the daily press that it is to be presumed every man, woman and child able to read, within the limits of the circulation of the city papers, is sufficiently familiar with the shallow games these sharpers play to detect them at once. It is, however, presumption only, as the facts establish the contrary. Yesterday morning one more victim was added to the list of swindled individuals, under circumstances, too, which would almost convict the man, were he indicted for being a fool. A Mr. Russell, from Ohio, arrived in the city a few days since, and yesterday about eleven o'clock was quietly walking down Fifth street, where he was addressed by a stranger in a friendly and gentlemanly manner, who, after walking with him some distance, keeping up a lively conversation, all the time, suddenly stopped and remarked that he must go to the Monongahela House and get some money. He said he had been making some purchases, and had bought a bill of hardware amounting to seventy-five dollars of Mr. Perkins, a wholesale dealer on Liberty street, and had not money enough to pay it. He had, however a check on the First National Bank of Pittsburgh for $1,710 in his pocket, but having a sufficient amount of money at his hotel to pay the bill and defray all his expenses while in the city, he did not wish to draw on the bank until he was ready to leave as he would have to deposit the money again. At this juncture a second gentleman stepped up and presented a bill for hardware, amounting to $75. He was introduced as Mr. Perkins. The first stranger was sorry but would be compelled to trouble Mr. P. to accompany him to the Monongahela House for the money as he had not that amount with him; he had, however, a check with him for a much larger amount which he would leave with Mr. Perkins as security until evening when he would call and pay the bill. Mr. P. was sorry, but the arrangement would not suit him, he was compelled to leave the city on business, and had scarcely time to reach the train, and suggested that perhaps his friend (referring to Mr. Russell) could advance the $75 and take the check until they reached the hotel; it would be a great accommodation to him if he would do so. The check was produced and Mr. Russell was thoughtless enongh to advance the money, which was handed to the man introduced as Perkins, who started toward the depot in great haste, while Russell and his new friend (?) walked leisurely toward the Monongahela House. Upon arriving there Mr. Russell was requested by his friend to wait at the door until his return. He would go to his room, get the $75 from his wife, and redeem the check. Mr. R. waited for some time, but his friend did not return, and he has not been able to see him since. He still retains the check on the First National Bank, for $1710, payable to Thomas Batters, which is worth just nothing at all. He made the matter known at the Mayor's office and gave a description of the man who had swindled him. He says he was of medium height, light complexion, sandy hair and whiskers, wore dark clothes, and a small brown hat. The police are on the look-out for the gentleman, and it is probable will pick him up, if he has not changed his clothes. Men who have money have to pay a pretty heavy license for being fools sometimes, and it would not matter much, if some honest man received the money.

Serious Cutting Affray—A Boy Twelve Years of Age Stabs His Companion.

A serious cutting affray occurred Thursday evening at Courtney Station, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, about seven miles west of the city, between William Courtney and Samuel Ballard, which it is feared will result fatally to the latter. The parties are school boys, aged respectively twelve and fourteen years. They reside in the vicinity, and attend the school near the Station. It appears that bad feeling has existed between them for some months past, and Thursday afternoon, previous to the hour for re-assembling the school, Courtney was standing at the school house corner with some companions, when a lad came to him and stated that Ballard, who was some distance away, wished to see him. Courtney said he would go at once, and as he was leaving he was observed to draw a knife from his pocket, open the blade, and then replace it in his pocket. One of the boys asked him if he was going to use it, and he replied that he was. Courtney then went to Ballard, and, as is alleged, without waiting to ascertain what the latter wanted, called him a liar and struck at him. He then drew the knife and stabbed Ballard, the blade penetrating the left side, just below the heart, inflicting a very dangerous wound. The injured boy was conveyed to his home, where he is now lying in a very critical condition. Dr. John Dickson is attending him. No information has been made against Courtney, and he is still at liberty.

Who Can Explain It.

Last night we were informed that a great natural curiosity had been discovered on the corner of Prospect and Washington streets. It is said that yesterday while workmen were digging an excavation for a new cellar a cut stone foundation of fine workmanship was struck, which puzzled the oldest natives to account for. This was sixty feet from the surface, the hill which stood there having been graded away. We incline to the belief that the foundation was laid in filling a ravine which must have existed there many years ago. Many curious persons visited the place yesterday and the discovery caused much conjecture and speculation.

A Pittsburgher Drowned.

Mayor Blackmore received a letter from St. Louis yesterday stating that Peter Brady, a resident of this city, was drowned in the river at that place on the 19th inst. It appears that Brady had taken passage on the Evening Star, which was lying at the wharf, intending to leave soon. In the evening he left the boat and went up into the city, and returning at a late hour very [drunk fell] overboard and was drowned. A number of deeds and other valuable papers were found on his person when taken from the water.

The Allegheny Library Association will hold a meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year, at the Hall of the Association in City Hall, on Monday evening, 25th inst., at 7½ o'clock. A full attendance of the members is desirable. This noble Institution of our sister city is worthy of all encouragement, and we hope the membership will be largely increased. The Library is extensively used, and with marked benefit to the many young persons who habitually slake their thirst for knowledge at its overflowing fountains.

Personal.—Mr. George W. Bell, telegraph operator, of the United States Senate, is in the city on a business visit to the home of his childhood.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

EPHEMERIS.

—Boston has fallen from her high estate. Last Sunday evening Ristori played in Music Hall in that ex-strong hold of puritanism, for the benefit of a Roman Catholic charity.

—A new kind of sleeve is threatened in Paris, made of silvery gauze stretched over wire, so as to meet above the wearer's head, after the most approved fashion of angel's wings.—Ex.

—General Kilpatrick is again spoken of as a Republican candidate for Governor of New Jersey. The Democrats are going to try some mysteriously raised up General by the name of Runyan.

—James W. Wood has had published in book form the song of Higher Water, being a burlesque on Longfellow's heroic poem of Hiawatha. A little subsequent, we would suggest to Mr. Wood, is this parody.

—Froude's histories may be very accurate and profound, but their author is nevertheless a snob. Recently at a Royal Academy dinner Mr. Froude mentioned the Queen as "condescending to publish a book."

—Great damage has been done by freshets in Iowa. In some places the water rose twenty-three feet in three hours, $20,00 would not cover the damage done to bridges, while lumber and cattle have been swept away in large amounts.

—The organ in use in St. Johns Episcopal Church in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, was built in York, England, in 1643. Fairfax saved it and the cathedral organ at the time when the Roundheads destroyed every other one in the kingdom.

Mr. Prentice says that "there is quite as much snobbishness in railing at distinguished men for the sake of notoriety as in cringing and fawning before them for the same object." This is very hard on Mr. Dickens, who has been guilty of both.

—A Paris telegram says the Emporer is ill but recovering. It seems, by putting together all the Paris telegrams and letters, that Napoleon is in a constant state of convalescence from ills, to which he seems to be as devoted an heir as the West Indies are to earthquakes.

—There is a stratum of carburetted hydrogen gas forty feet below the level of the city of New Orleans. It is made by the decomposition of vegetable matter deposited there in former times by the Mississippi River. It is proposed to tap it and light the city with it.

—The Revolution has a correspondent who insists that Mrs. General Greene invented the cotton gin, and that Eli Whitney was only the mechanic who worked out her ideas. As the Revolution advocates this idea, we suppose it's editors have no doubt of Mrs. General Greene having been a woman.

—A. C. Wilson is the man at the other end of the Atlantic cable, who thinks that American taste runs to horse races in preference to momentous political and historical movements. We should now like to know who is the man in Cuba, who thinks Americans prefer earthquakes to any other sort of light reading.

—A pleasant Scotch statistician has been delighting the people of Glasgow by demonstrating the fact that they swallow 1,000 tons of dirt every year with their drinking water. We don't want any such statisticians here. We may swallow more dirt than that, but as there is no immediate help for it, we would prefer indulging in the bliss of ignorance.

The New Orleans Picayune, a rebel newspaper, says a very sensible thing in regard to the choice of a President, and at the same time gives such traitors as Pendleton and Vallandigham a severe poke in the ribs. "If a man who was either equivocally or plainly on the war side is to be chosen, we would much prefer one who fought for his principles."

—Flounces have come in again; it is not very long since their last innings; a Paris correspondent says flounces are a perfect furore. As many as thirty-six are to be put on muslins, and all the thirty-six are to be frills of Valenciennes! This Valenciennes display is also fashionable on silks and light glacés. Pockets, cuffs and epaulets are made of Valenciennes for the latter material.

—Read what Punch thinks of his fellow-countrymen:

"The truth is, that for all the pluck and practical good sense, over which he is so ready to hug himself, John Bull is too often the most offensive of snobs—brutal, pig-headed and blunderiug—as odious a creature, altogether, as any that lives; a being to blush over, and to repent in sackcloth and ashes for. Only your English snob, however. Happily, there is your English gentlemen to trim the scale. But then your 'snob' is so frightfully frequent in this blessed country. Is there any other country under the sun so overrun with snobs—any other where the snob is to be found, rampant, in all ranks, classes, callings, and in such force that he often determines their tone and establishes their laws? We doubt it.

—The friends of Mr. Pendleton are going to try and carry things with a rush and a great show at the coming New York Convention. "To this end they propose to send five hundred citizens as a Pendleton escort, who will march up Broadway under the largest piece of bunting that can be manufactured. In the matter of bunting they propose to outdo the Keystone Guards of Buchanan's day. The Seward force had the celebrated pugilist Tom Hyer to do their shoulder-hitting for them at Chicago. The Pendleton escort from Cincinnati will be supported by the winner of the forthcoming championship fight, the giant McCoole or the athletic Coburn."

—The La Crosse Democrat modestly says this about its editor: "This Hand (God) has now raised up Brick Pomeroy, the man the genius of the age—has raised him from a poor, friendless printer boy in an obscure village, to be the greatest editor and the most loved and influential on the face of the globe—has raised him up for His own great purposes and plans. The signs of the times indicate that God has raised Brick Pomeroy to do with a goose quill what the hosts of the South under their immortal leaders, could not do—to place civil liberty and free government on a permanent foundation—has raised him up to be,—first Vice President and then President of the United States of America—yes, to be the savior of the country Washington bettered and Lincoln so nearly destroyed.

—An eastern exchange, in its fashion column says: Bonnets are growing smaller in Paris. A correspondent describes one, consisting simply of a band of delicate fluffy black feathers covered with small points of jet two inches wide over the forehead, and tapering off to one inch over the ears; on one side of the band, an exquisite, imitated wild rose, in pink tinted mother-of-pearl, and a bunch of ribband grass. A pair of black strings completed this "bonnet." There was literally nothing else; not the faintest trace of tulle, lace, wire, or anything but the little "fluffy" strands of feather, the flower and grass, and the pair of strings. The latter, moreover were not "strings" of riband, as in other days, but simply a narrow strip of Chantilly, intended to be loosely pinned together, a few inches below the chin, with a brooch.

—Mr. A. R. Hope has written a book about boys, in which he says some good things. He begins by classifying boys, and here are a couple of the classes: "1. Young Gentlemen.—I shudder as I pen the disgusting name. You know what I mean?—the beardless beings who wish to be thought men and dandies, and to that end smoke, swear and swagger, with more or less impunity. If you go out into the streets on a Saturday afternoon you will see hundreds of them, whom you would like to take between your finger and thumb, and drop quietly into the gutter. 2. Mammas' Darlings.—A large and increasing class, I grieve to say, though I would speak tenderly of them, that their degradation is often caused by circumstances over which neither they nor the wisest of writers and teachers have any control; viz: fond and foolish mothers, who will make them wear comforters and goloshes, and keep them in the house when it is cold, and encourage them to cry when they are hurt."

A New Platform for the Democratic Party.

Wilkes' Spirit has a leader in which Fessenden, Trumbull & Co.'s treachery is termed a lawyer's conspiracy for the destruction of the youthful Republican party, by the reconstruction of the rotten old thing that styles itself a Democratic party. Wilkes says:

We know of what we speak, and we say authoritatively that the Democratic platform will be so amended as to recognize the national progress of the last seven years, and to suit the progressive temper of the time. On the Fourth of July next the programme will be enunciated in Tammany Hall, in the city of New York. Its main planks will be a denunciation of human slavery, and an acceptance of all the legislation of the period on that subject; the repudiation and extinction of the Confederate debt; the equality of all men before the law; and impartial suffrage. It is shrewdly calculated that in view of such a programe, the alienated Democratic element, which now constitutes the Republican majority, have become disgusted with a party which is incapable of government, or even of defending its own life, and perceiving, moreover, in other and vigorous hands, a platform covering their old principles, will at once flock to the new standard, and leave the Republican party to sink to ruin. This is a plausible conception, and will be fair to win if Andrew Johnson is acquitted; though it is not so certain that the Democratic party, after having profited by the treachery of ——Fessenden & Co., will choose to win with Republican traitors at its head.

Old Prices of Living.

In these days of high prices it will be refreshing or tantalizing, as the case may be, to know the prices our English forefathers paid for their meats, bread and butter. In 1130 bread enough to feed a hundred men one day, cost twenty-five cents; and a sheep sold for eight cents. In 1200 the price of the best wines was raised to twelve cents a quart, to enable the dealers to live by them. One-cent loaves of wheat bread varied from sixteen to ninety-six ounces in weight, according to the price of grain. Wheat was three cents a bushel in 1286. The law fixed the price of two pullets at three cents; and a fat lamb from twelve to eight cents, according to the season of the year, 1299. In 1313 Parliament fixed the price of a fat ox at about twelve dollars; or, if corn-fed, at eighteen dollars; a shorn sheep at one dollar twenty-five cents; and eggs at 3 cents a dozen; and other articles of breadstuffs, &c., continuing at the prices given above. In 1307 the best wine cost five dollars a tun. Wheat was thirty-seven cents a bushel in 1390, and this was deemed a famine price by the historians of that period, who designate that year as "the dearth year." In the time of Henry the Eighth, beef and pork settled down to a cent a pound, and veal at a cent and a half. Three pints of milk were sold for a cent. The best of it was that these prices were fixed by law, and so placed out of the reach of speculators, though people grumbled at these enormous rates, as they thought them, as they do now. These prices are reduced, for conveaience, from sterling to federal money.

TRICHINOSCOPES.—There is now being sold in Paris a small pocket-lens which is called a trichinoscope. Can you imagine for what it is intended? I suppose you have heard of certain deadly worms—small as hairs, and, therefore, called trinchinæ—which infest pork? It is intended by means of the trichinoscope that if you have sausage or ham placed before you at the table, you should be in a position to ascertain, by ocular demonstration, whether or not it is pervaded by parasites. Surely it is better to adjure the unclean beast altogether than to be afflicted with such hideous fears of the consequences of eating him. I saw a distinguished chemist, the other day, begin his dinner by swallowing some pills of pepsine, made from the stomach of a pig. The pills were intended to enable him to digest the huge dinner which he had vowed to devour. —Once a Week.

Ross, of Kansas called on Mr. Wade in the Vice President's room to-day. He took a seat without invitation, and, after a few awkward attempts, began a conversation excusing his action on impeachment. Wade listened in angry silence until Ross began to tell what would be Johnson,s future course, and how well-behave he (Ross) expected him to be. Mr. Wade indignantly told the Kansas Senator that he desired to hear nothining further, and wished him to leave, saying that he hoped that he would never speak to him again. Ross left.—Washington Letter.

RIVER NEWS.

The Monongahela continues to recede slowly with six feet six inches in the channel, and the Allegheny, also, is falling steadily with seven and a half feet in the channel. The weather yesterday was cloudy and unsettled, with every appearance last evening of rain.

The St. Charles arrived on Thursday night with a fair trip, and departed again last night. The Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth, arrived and departed, as did also the Bayard, from Parkersburg.

The Grey, Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

A laborer named Patrick Cook was drowned off the St. Charles yesterday morning, between eight and nine o'clock. His body has not yet been recovered. He was 26 years old, resided at the Point, and leaves a wife and one child.

The towboat Coal Valley left yesterday forenoon for Cincinnati, having in tow eight barges and 75,000 bushels of coal.

Capt. John Woodburn, who has been running the W. A. Caldwell in the Arkansas River trade, for some months past, was in the city yesterday. He looks quite natural.

The Kenton cleared for St. Louis last evening, and the Emma No. 3, Capt. J. H. Marrattta, is now loading, and will be the first boat out.

The R. C. Gray, Capt. Anderson, leaves for Cincinnati and Louisville to-day without fail. She will receipt freight through to Memphis and New Orleans, with the privilege of reshipping.

We have received a letter from a Pittsburgh steamboat captain at St. Louis, in which he complains bitterly, and, as we think, with good reason, too, in regard to some of the tricks practised by Missouri River boats, which, to say the least, are very mean and shabby. We extract the following:

"I want you to enlighten our Pittsburgh boatmen in regard to Missouri River boats, and the way they take advantage of Pittsburgh boats. They advertise cheap rates of passage, say $12 to Omaha, but that is without meals, which, when added, brings it up to $21; then, again, they will not give you a clear bill of lading for through freights. As a consequence, Pittsburgh boats have been sadly taken in lately, as there is not much competition."

The St. Louis Democrat, of Thursday, says: Glendale, for Pittsburgh, George Burk and Wm. Ealy pilots, is loaded to her guards, having 300 bbls flour, 1,340 sks do, and 520 do cornmeal for reshipment at Parkersburg; one hundred tons pig metal for Pittsburgh, and takes a barge of sand in tow below here.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Wednesday, has the following items:

The renewed attempts to navigate the Osage, a tributary of the Missouri, have not proved very successful. The Last Chance succeeded only after weeks of delay in making a trip from the mouth to Osceola and back.

The Selma, lately a Mobile packet finding nothing to do, has been towed to the wharf.

The decline in the river here is steady, and general in the upper rivers excepting the Upper Missouri. There is a fine stage to St. Paul, deep water in the Illinois, and an arrival from the Missouri yesterday, was drawing five and a half feet.

Amazing quantities of produce are found along the banks of the Missouri.

Every boat is loaded to the water, and every boat refuses freight.

Arrived—Silver Cloud, from Pittsburgh.

To leave to-day—Melnotte and Glendale.

The steamer Success, which reached Fort Benton on the 15th, left seventy-five tuns of freight at Dauphin's Rapids. She reports that two men were killed by the Indians near Fort Rice, and two others at Round Butts.

The Cora reached Fort Benton at 7 p. m. on the 15th. The river is rising.

The steamer Jacobs was snagged and sunk yesterday in Iowa Bend, Missouri river.

A Cincinnati paper of Thursday, says: The Ezra Porter, from New Orleans, reshipped her Pittsburgh freight on the Wauanita, and lays up here for the present. Captain Porter intends having her upper guards cut off, to increase her capacity for cotton carrying, and will place her in Red river again this fall.

Advices from Washington say Governor Morton expects to call up for consideration in the Senate the subject of bridges over the Ohio river. He has been investigating the matter at considerable length, and will oppose legalizing the construction of any bridge with a less span than 500 feet. The bills for bridges at Newport and Paducah are still pending in the Senate, and will probably be so amended as to require a span of at least 500 feet.

The lower deck of the Alice Dean, on her way here from New Orleans, was the scene of a serioocomic circumstance at Memphis. The wife of a New Orleans jeweler had eloped with a young man, taking with her $1,000 worth of her husband's trinkets. The husband, learning that the pair were passengers on the Alice Dean, took the cars and intercepted them at Memphis. Boarding the boat at a very early hour in the morning, he discovered the couple lying on the floor of the deck, locked in each other's arms, fast asleep. Several persons had gathered around to witness the grand finale. Some storming, some expostulation, and some tears and entreaties, resulted in the three persons most interested adjourning to a hotel to talk the matter over. The matter was finally compromised by the husband bearing his lawful partner back to New Orleans, on condition that the young man should retain the jewels, but keep out of sight of the now loving spouse hereafter. These are the facts as we gather them from the Memphis papers.

The Government contract for transportating six or seven hundred tons of freight to forts on the Upper Missuri has been awarded to Capt. W. J. Kountz, though not as yet as yet officially announced.

The Memphis Appeal of the 16th says: The Rubicon passed up yesterday with a good trip. She had several families bound to the far West. From Mr. Alf. Grissom, her clerk, we learn the particulars of a horrid double murder, perpetrated at Greenville on Tuesday last. It seems that Major Byrne and Mr. Tom Polk got into a difficulty in a bar-room. After the usual introductory to such affairs, they came to blows when Doctor Blanton rushed up to Mr. Byrne, and drawing a knife, stabbed him once in the back and several times in the right side. Col. Hinds, an old gentleman sixty years of age attempted to part the excited men, when Blandon turned upon him, and with one sweep of his knife completely disemboweled the Colonel, who died in a few moments. Major Byrne, at last accounts, was still alive, but no hopes were entertained of his recovery. Blandon, it is said, made his escape.

RATIFICATION MEETING.

The friends of GRANT, COLFAX and the Union are reminded that a mass meeting will be held this evening at the City Hall. Distinguished speakers will be present, and also our delegates to the Convention, who will address the meeting. We also remind them that Allegheny county has been pledged, by Major BROWN, to the Republicans of the Union to give ten thousand majority for the ticket in November, and the pledge can be made good, if Allegheny county wills it. No ticket could have been selected more acceptable to Republicans here, and it should not be forgotten that the promptitude of our own delegation contributed most effectively to secure the choice of the Convention for COLFAX. There is, therefore, a remarkable force in the suggestion that the Republicans of Allegheny, having thus influenced the nomination, are bound in honor to poll their last votes for the ticket. No man who knows them will doubt their intention and ability to do so. Let us therefore remember that we have taken a contract and go to work at once, and let us have, to begin with, a rousing, old-fashioned meeting to-night,—a thundering report from Allegheny's first gun in the campaign.

We invite every friend of GRANT and COLFAX to attend.

OBSTRUCTIONS TO NAVIGATION.

The Senate, on Thursday, agreed to Gov. MORTON'S resolution recommitting the Paducah Bridge bill and instructing the Committee to report a general measure to regulate the erection of these structures across any navigable waters at the West. The Indiana Senator sustained his motion in a speech treating generally on the whole subject, and marked by his usual care in preparation and comprehensive breadth of statement. He stated that ten bridges have already been authorized to be built across the Upper Mississippi, and, alluding to the schemes projected for crossing the Ohio, remarked that if these were carried into effect the navigation of these streams would be substantially destroyed. He recognized the importance of the railway interests, but insisted that there need be no conflict, in promoting these, with the privileges of navigation, competent practical authority having established the fact that suitable structures may be erected which should be unobjectionable to either class. There is ground for the hope that these views will prevail with Congress, and that timely and well-considered legislation will settle the question to the satisfaction of all parties.

THE Chicago Tribune is "authorized by Judge TRUMBULL" to deny that he has communicated with Johnson since last November, that he has ever been in any scheme for forming a new political party, or that he had any earthly inducement or motive to vote for acquittal other than his own sense of justice. It is very unfortunate for Mr. TRUMBULL that his personal averments to his colleague Senator YATES and others, prior to the delivering of his opinion in the Senate, were so directly at variance with his subsequent course as to indispose all plain, honest people to any thing like belief in the truth of these denials. He is not the first man who has been a sufferer from "circumstances" much easier to explain than those which have attended his conversion from an accuser of the President to his advocate. The "unfortunate misunderstanding" of which he is now presented as a victim is one so seriously grave that even thirty members of the Illinois Legislature, at Chicago on Wednesday, denounced him as a recreant, in their speeches and resolutions. His "emphatic denials" seem to have little weight with his constituents, who demand his resignation,

INTIMATIONS reach us from Washington that the friends of Impeachment have reviving hopes of success upon other articles yet undecided, the second being particularly specified. The results of the Chicago Convention may suggest a change of policy to one or two of the Senators who have, in their votes upon the eleventh article, so grievously disappointed their former friends, but we see no other grounds, for a belief that they will again change their votes, than is exhibited by the facility with which they have already once deceived the public expectations. Senators with such records are certainly far superior to any embarrassing considerations of consistency, and are ready for any course which offers the strongest inducements. But where are their inducements now for conviction?

AN ESSENTIAL DIFFERENCE.

The Republican party rebounds, from the successive treacheries which have, each of them, aimed ineffectually at its life, with an elastic vigor which declares the intrinsic worth of its principles and the exuberant vitality of its constitution. More than this, these defections of men ever trusted in its highest and most confidential councils, serve only as additional proofs that the organization, preferring principles to men, can not be swayed from its exalted ends in the interests of any personal ambition, and that no mere political intriguer, however commanding his talents or honorable his record of past services, can ever hope to find it deferentially subservient to his intrigues. There is an element of purity and of disinterested devotion to the welfare of the Republic, so radically underlying and pervading this great organization, that, sooner or later, it is sure to repel and slough off every unhealthy growth of personal ambition, or selfish and corrupt devotion to private ends. Year after year, we have quietly opened our ranks, suffering the faint-hearted to shamble, in silent disgrace, to the rear, or here and there a deposed leader of a column to gallop over to the enemy, followed only by our indignant scorn. FREMONT deserted us in 1864. JOHNSON, SEWARD and BLAIR, DIXON, COWAN and DOOLITTLE went to their more congenial place in 1865, and the Republican party was stronger than ever in the succeeding elections. So, now, when CHASE, FESSENDEN and TRUMBULL and their poor tools abandon us, we cluster the more devotedly about our standards, and our arms are nerved with a heartier determination, and for surer victories.

In this regard, Republicans, as the only true party of progress, presents the strongest contrast to the effete, fossilized Democracy. Our opponents learn nothing, gain nothing, change nothing. They concede nothing to the demands of the hour; they recognize no claims in the changed situation which marks the progress of the Republic. Their leaders hold the soul of the party in their hands; the same spirit animates their counsels, the same tendencies are revealed in the purposes of to-day as in the plot of eight years since—a period which spans over two eras in the history of the American people. The elimination of new ideas has never failed of inflicting severe injuries upon their partizan status. They meet the demands of an advancing civilization, of an increasing knowledge, of a ripening sense of public morality and Christian justice, not by acknowledging their force, accepting the purer creed, inscribing it upon their banners and supporting it with a warmer enthusiasm and a loftier faith, but by disowning the new sentiments as unwelcome intruders and by expelling both the principles and those who uphold them. Clinging to the time-honored abuses of slavery, they despised the dogma of man's freedom, and ostracised its converts from their ranks. Holding tenaciously to the fragments of an exploded theory of State rights, they identified themselves with secession and denounced Democrats who were loyal to the Union, as traitors to their party. In each case the new opinions had been embraced by the younger, more vigorous, and earnest of the Democracy, who naturally came into the Republican alliance, where, to-day, War Democrats and Democratic friends of the freedom of man are the strength of the present and the hope of the future. Yet, from this experience, the "old Bourbons" of Democracy learn nothing. They seem wilfully blind to the great fact that Democratic schisms invariably send off their best men, their purest principles and their working majorities, for which an occasional handful of soured and exhausted old veterans, who can no longer profit or be profited by the true party of progress, is all that they ever get in exchange. For our own part, we are content with this state of things, and with a party which flies the old flag of Loyalty, Liberty and Republican Progress.

A FATAL EXCUSE.

Some very prominent Conservatives, who put themselves forward as defenders of TRUMBULL and FESSENDEN, resent as an insult the imputation that they yielded their convictions of justice and duty to pecuniary seductions. They protest that those men are so morally pure as to be incapable of acting in cases of high public moment, or in matters of official obligation, through promise or expectation of financial profit. When pressed by two facts—1. That these men voted for the Office Tenure Act, as declaratory of the constitutional right of appointment and removal; and, 2d. That they further voted against the reasons assigned by the President for disregarding that law in the removal of Mr. STANTON, clearly showing that they held that removal to be unwarranted and in derogation of the prerogatives of the Senate—and asked to account for the sudden change of front evinced by them in voting for the acquittal of the President, which was tantamount to saying, either that the Office-Tenure Act is not a valid law, or that the President did not violate it, they enter upon what they hold to be a sufficient explanation. They state that a conspiracy was formed to disrupt and defeat the Republican party; that CHASE, TRUMBULL and FESSENDEN were clearly in this conspiracy; that Senators of less mental weight and personal character may have been bought, by the whisky-ring, to cooperate therewith, but that these men are altogether too high-toned to take a money bribe themselves. This is the precise form in which the explanation has been stated to us by men, honored and trusted by the Republican party, who are personal and political intimates of FESSENDEN and TRUMBULL; and this is the best they have to offer. Let us consider this explanation, in order to see how far it acquits the men in whose behalf it is offered, and how far it leaves them open to the worse imputations that can be laid at their door.

If they were in the conspiracy, as is admitted, they must have been either party or privy to the use of pecuniary arguments to pervert other Senators. Politicians sometimes make a distinction between selling themselves and buying others. They do not hesitate to buy a man, when they have use for him, and cannot get him otherwise, and think this transaction entails no disgrace· but they never sell themselves, to act against their party, and claim great purity on that account. Now, we do not see what essential difference there is, ethically, in selling one's vote for money, or preferment, or revenge. Each of these motives is equally corrupt, in such a case. A man in whose estimation money is the highest good, will sell his vote therefor; he who hold promotion, conspicuity, power, the chief object of desire, will sell his vote for that; while he who delights mainly in gratifying jealousy, hatred and revenge, will prostitute his vote to gain these ends. It is true that a man may yield to one of these motives and not consent to either of the remaining two. Such persons probably exist, but they are comparatively rare. At best, however, there is no difference in the characters of the three sorts.

These defenders of the Senators say they did not allow a consideration of pecuniary profit to decide their votes, but did allow hopes of political advantage or revenge to control them. Taking this friendly account of FESSENDEN and TRUMBULL as true, we think it fair to conclude they would not have resented the offer of any other description of profit or qualification. If, acting under their oaths, which required them to proceed according to their conceptions of law and evidence bearing on the case, they suffered their partnership in a political conspiracy to determine the votes they gave, they are unworthy of trust in any relation of life, and are as clearly perjured men as though they had sold their consciences for money or the hope of it.

The social and intellectual position of these men, so far from mitigating the moral enormity of their offense, makes it incomparably worse. It is bad enough for a poor devil who has not a dollar in his pocket or a clean shirt on his back, to sell himself for a paltry sum; but for men selected by reason of their superiorities for the Senatorial dignity, to make a mockery of their oaths, to embark in defiance of it in a conspiracy through which they hope to attain ends valuable to themselves; and then throw themselves back upon their reputations as a sufficient justification against adverse criticisms, is a yet more lamentable display of human weakness and folly. Do they not hear the weird voice of the ancient prophet sounding through the ages? "But when the righteous turneth away, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned. In his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die."

Doubtless a conspiracy was formed to break down the Republican party. To this conspiracy, it is now clear, CHASE, TRUMBULL and FESSENDEN lent themselves, if they did not organize. Sitting on the trial of the President, they made up their minds before hand to find him not guilty. They went from the Senate Chamber to plot and contrive who among their associates they could entice corruptly. This is the account their defenders give of their doings and motives. Such a defence is full as damning as anything their opponents or enemies allege against them.

WEST VIRGINIA blazes with the indignation of its people at their betrayal by Senator VAN WINKLE and he is called upon by public meetings in all sections of the State to lay down the trust he has abused. The Wheeling Intelligencer, explaining his election as having been due to the influence of his own wealth and social position, added to that of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, proceeds to make the following serious charges. It says:

We have unquestionable authority for stating that Mr. Van Winkle, on Tuesday the 12th instant, just before the vote was to be taken on the impeachment articles, stated to one of our Representatives that he should vote for the eleventh article but against all the rest. On Friday, the 15th, the day before the vote was taken, he told his colleague, Mr. Willey, that he had an interview with the Chief Justice, and that the opinions which the Chief Justice expressed concerning the eleventh article had changed his (Mr. Van Winkle's) views to such an extent that he intended now to vote against it. (Mr. Willey remarked to the Representative above referred to that the opinions of Mr. Chase, as reiterated by Mr. Van Winkle, seemed to him like an additional argument why that article should be adopted.)

PENNSYLVANIA ON THE RECORD.—The Republican delegation, at Chicago, from this State, adopted on Wednesday evening, the following emphatic resolution:

Resolved, That the faithful people of the nation have been bowed in the deepest humiliation by the recreancy of the seven Republican Senators who, in violation of their own solemn record in the enactment and maintenance of the law against the usurpations of the President, have voted to acquit him on the eleventh article of impeachment. They accept such recreancy, as history must accept it as the most pronounced perfidy in the experience of the Government, as a crime against loyalty and the laws, which the living cannot forgive' and posterity cannot forget, and for which there can be no apology consistent with the integrity of statesmanship.

ROSCOE CONKLING, Senator from New York. is reported to have threatened the arrest and punishment of newspaper correspondents "who have made infamous accusations against honorable Senators," if he is correctly reported, we advise the Senator to send the Sergeant at Arms after the entire body of the Chicago Convention, for their endorsement of the popular suspicions.

A FATAL cattle disease is raging fearfully in Sangamon and other counties in Illinois. The President and members of the Illinois Agricultural Society are to investigate its cause, prevention and cure at once. It is supposed to have been imported from the East.

—General McClellan has written a letter declining a public reception on his arrival in New York next month. He will, no doubt, be nominated for the Presidency by the Democrats, with Hendricks for the second place. This is pretty well settled upon.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Odd Fellows.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania closed yesterday at noon, after a very pleasant and agreeable session, which will remain fresh in the memory of the representatives and members who attended the same. Reports, resolutions, appropriations and business of miscellaneous character, was the order of the day, up to the close at eleven o'clock A. M., when the body adjourned sine die.

The marked and distinguished attention of the Brotherhood in Pittsburgh, and in fact Allegheny county, is acknowledged by all the Grand Officers and members of the Grand Lodge, who have shown their appreciation of the kindness and hospitality extended in various ways. The influence which the session in our midst, and the deportment of the visitors from abroad, will exert in this portion of the great jurisdiction of Pennsylvania will be incalculable, and will have its few fiscal effects upon the city and its surroundings for periods yet to come.

The reports of the Order exhibited a success unparalleled in its history, there being no less than sixty-six thousand members in this State, while there are over two hundaed thousand in the United States. To these can now be added the lodges in the Canadas and the Sandwich Islands. Recent information from Australia has demonstrated the fact that the large Brotherhood without remote regions numbering some five thousand members desire to affiliate and be admitted under the juridiction of the Grand Lodge of the United States.

We doubt not that the day is not far distant when the entire earth shall experience the influence of the sound doctrines and pure principles of Odd Fellowship, as commanded by the kind and genial instruction contained in the many lessons of Friendship, Love and Truth!

A Pleasant Occasion.

On yesterday afternoon Prof. George J. Luckey, City Superintendent elect, formally resigned his position as Principal of the Third and Tenth wards public school.

The school assembled in the spacious school hall, which was handsomely arranged and beautifully decorated with flowers, boquets, etc.

A number of school directors and other friends were present. Several young misses, pupils of the school, read selections in a highly creditable manner. Miss Annie McMasters read "Abou Ben Adhem;" Miss Mollie Cannon read a piece entitled "A Psalm of Life," and Miss Ada Linn read "Woodman Spare that Tree."

At the close of these readings Miss Sallie Wallace, teacher of No. 16 room, in behalf of the teachers and pupils presented, in a neat and appropriate manner, Prof. Luckey with an elegant silver tea set. The Professor seemed somewhat taken back at first, but soon responded in a masterly speech, reviewing his career as Principal of the school, and reverting to the faithfulness of the teachers, the kindness of directors, teachers and pupils, and then warmly thanked them for the present kindness.

Speeches were made by Prof. J. Allan McCrum, A. Burt, C. A. Chamberlain, Will A. Johnson, L. H. Eaton and Mr. David Simms, Director.

The exercises were interspersed by excellent and appropriate music, furnished by the school, Miss Fannie M. Cougher presiding at the piano.

The whole performance was of the most pleasing character, and will no doubt be long remembered by those who were present. Success to Prof. Luckey in his new calling.

Obituary Resolutions.

At a meeting of the "Friend Rifles," held last night at the office of Major J. F. Denniston, County Treasurer, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, We have learned with regret of the decease of our late friend and companion in arms, Capt. Robert G. Hare, one whose upright and manly course of conduct has caused to cling around our memories the enduring recollections of a frank and warm-hearted friend, an able and zealous soldier, therefore,

Resolved, That by his death we have lost a good companion, an upright and conscientious mess-mate, who was ever ready, as a soldier, to do any duty or endure any sacrifice for the benefit of his country, when traitors sought its destruction.

2. That though our departed companion did not fall covered with glory upon the field of battle, his name is none the less enrolled among the pure and good who died for freedom and justice.

3. That in humble submission to the will of the Great Disposer of all things, we tender to the friends and family of our deceased companion our heartfelt sympathy in this their great bereavement.

4. That we attend the funeral in a body, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased, and be published in the daily papers.

J. F. DENNISTON, Chairman.
JAMES CROSBIE, Secretary.

Serious Accident.

A serious accident occurred yesterday about seven o'clock, by which Mr. Fred. Jacobs, of the firm of Jaocbs, Bughllach & Co., bottlers, Market street, was severely injured. At the time the accident occurred he was standing at the corner of Second and Market street, when a pair of horses attached to a "pop" wagon came running up Market street at a fearful rate of speed. Seeing that the horses were running away Mr. Jacobs ran into the street to stop them, when he was struck by one of the horses, knocked down and run over, breaking three of the ribs on his left side, and his right leg, below the knee. He was removed to his residence, the Fourth Street Exchange, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Emling. It is feared that he has received serious internal injuries, which may prove fatal.

City Mortality.

Drowned.

Patrick Cork, a deck hand on the steamer St. Charles, was drowned yesterday morning while engaged in unloading the boat, which was moored at the foot of Wood street, at the Monongahela wharf. The crew were engaged in discharging a quantity of bailed hay when Cook, who was working near the guards of the boat, was struck by a bale of hay and knocked overboard. Before assistance could be rendered his body was drawn under the Delaware lying immediately below, and has not yet been recovered. The deceased lived at the Point, was twenty-six years of age and leaves a wife and one child.

Resigned.—Mr. N. C. Garland, long connected with the once popular Opera House of this city, as property man, a position which he filled with marked ability, has resigned to accept similar office with Mrs. Drew in Philadelphia.

Exciting Runaway.

An exciting runaway occurred on Fourth street, near Market, yesterday, which fortunately terminated without the loss of life, or serious injury to any person. A horse attached to a wagon belonging to Reinhart & Stevens, dealers in spices, on Fourth street, had been left standing in front of their place of business, when he took fright and ran away. He started down Fourth street, and when near the corner of Fourth and Ferry, the wagon struck a buggy belonging to a Mr. Sheridan and completely demolished it. At the instant the collision took place Mr. S. was assisting his mother, who is an elderly lady, from the buggy, and very fortunately succeeded in getting her out safely. The frightened horse turned down Ferry and up Third, and at the corner of Market and Third ran into a wagon belonging to Mrs. Denny, breaking the shafts and slightly injuring the horse which was attached to it. The runaway kept on his wild career, and turned down Market street, but had not proceeded far when Mr. Shields ran out and caught him.

The Poetry of Begging.

At the Postoffice there daily stands a bewitchingly pretty little Italial girl of nine or ten summers, pleading with motionless lips and eloquent eyes for charity. She stretches forth her little hand, as fair and exquisitely moulded as a water lilly, and uttering no word, flashes from her lustrous dark eyes a strong appeal to the stoniest heart for alms. The generous giver moved and electrified to charity by the grace and beauty and eloquence of the pretty little beggar flower, is thrilled, when the hand in which he reaches her aid is caught in her tiny fingers and raised to her sweet cherry lips and a warm gushing kiss is stamped thereon with passionate tenderness, as an angel's receipt for a good deed well performed. Be she an imposter or not, the poetry of begging is largely developed within her little bosom, and, is it not a beautiful idea that invisible angels kiss the hand reached forth in charity as does this little poetic and accomplished alms-taker.

The Diamond Front.

The "Diamond Front Grocery" and produce establishment, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, is destined to be the leading establishment of its character in our sister city, not on account of its fine appearance, which is nevertheless very attractive, nor in consequence of its being favorably convenient and centrally locality, but because purchasers can be accommodated there in groceries and produce upon the most reasonable terms, and are always sure of getting the very best quality of any article they purchase. There is another cause to which, perhaps, the popularity and rapidly increasing trade of this establishment may be attributed which is its pleasant and agreeable proprietors, Messrs. McBride & George. These gentlemen are both practical business men, and understand fully the wants of the public so far as their business is concerned, and we most cordially reccommend them to the public.

BEWARE

Of that remorseless and insidious destroyer of the human race,

CONSUMPTION.

Check and conquer its advances, lest you fall the victim. When attacked with any of its preliminary symptoms, no matter how slight, be on your guard and promptly use the remedy ere too late.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is an old, well tried, certain and standard remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Difficulty of Breathing, Pain or Oppression in the Chest or Lungs, and all Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs. Its sure and certain efficacy has been fully tested and endorsed for many years by numbers of well-known citizens in our midst, and their certificates are on record. Have you a cough which has gradually increased from a slight one to one of permanent standing? Lose no time, but procure a bottle of DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP, which will surely relieve you of the dangerous premonitory symptoms and effect a permanent cure. Do you spend miserable days and long sleepless nights of torture and pain from attacks of Asthma or Difficulty of Breathing? Dr. SARGENT'S Cough Syrup will act promptly, relieve you, and gradually restore you to your freedom of pain, and sound, pleasant sleep. Are your lungs sore and irritated, indicating inflammation? This is one of the most dangerous symptoms, and should be promptly removed. Dr. SARGENT'S Cough Syrup will heal the soreness, allay the inflammation, and restore the lungs to their prestine health and vigor. This Cough Syrup is pleasant and agreeable to take, while powerful and sure in its action. For sale by all Druggists in the country.

"BLESSINGS BRIGHTEN AS THEY TAKE THEIR FLIGHT."

Home, friends and all the enjoyments of life seem infinitely more dear to the sufferer from nervous debility when the probability is that, ere long, he must leave them forever. When the health has become impaired, and the strength is failing, then life looks more alluring. Stimulants are the only means of restoration in cases of nervous debility. The great difficulty has been to provide a stimulant possessing not only medicinal merit, but one affording permanent relief. If HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is resorted to in such cases, its beneficial effects will soon become apparent in the buoyancy of spirits and renewed strength of the hitherto dejected patient. Experience has proved this preparation to be "the Remedy of the age" for nervous debility, as well as all diseases arising from derangement of the stomach and liver.

Persons advanced in life, and feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS—an elixir that will instil new life into their veins; restore, in a measure, the ardor and energy of more youthful days; build up their shrunken forms and give health and vigor to their remaining years. Those who are in the least afflicted with Dyspepsia, Ague, Languor, Nausea, or any other troublesome and dangerous disease, arising from a disordered system, should not hesitate to avail themselves of the benefit derived from this great remedy.

The immense quantities of this invaluable tonic that are consumed, and which is steadily increasing, year by year, is sufficient in itself to disarm the most skeptical.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop. JOHN SCANLAN,
Coal Bluffs, Washington Co., Pa.

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. Hist these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT CONSULTING OFFICE FOR LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND TREATMENT OF CHRONIC DISEASES, No. 120 PENN STREET, FROM 9 A. M. UNTIL 3 P. M.

CITY OF PITTSBURGH WATER LOAN.

PROPOSALS FOR

OF THE

Bonds of the "Water Extension Loan,"

Will be received at the office of the CITY CONTROLLER, Fourth street.

These are COUPON BONDS, bearing interest at the rate of SEVEN PER CENT. per annum, payable semi-annually, at the office of the City Treasurer, and the Bonds are to be paid off in twenty-five years from April 1, 1868.

By Act of Assembly the Revenue of the Water Works is pledged for the payment of the Bonds and Coupons, and the latter are by law made receivable for Water Rents, and the Act authorizing the Loan creates a SINKING FUND of not less than two per cent. of all bonds which may have been issued in pursuance of said Act. The Councils are bound to appropriate annually a sufficient sum for interest, and not less than two per cent. of all bonds which may have issued to go into the Sinking Fund.

The proceeds of these Bonds can only be used for the extension and improvement of the City Water Works, which will increase the revenue, while at present it is far greater than is required to insure the payment of interest and retirement of the Bonds.

The Bonds are EXEMPT FROM STATE, COUNTY and CITY TAX, which, together with all the foregoing advantages, make the Bonds the most desirable security offered to the public.

Bids under par will not be considered.

By order of Finance Committee.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 230 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, May 22, 1868.

Gold remained firm to-day, as usual on Friday during a period of heavy shipments. The market opened at 139⅞, advanced to 140, and closed at 139¾. The shipments of specie will amount to about three millions dollars, including the estimates for the steamers sailing to-morrow. The week's shipments have been drawn principally from the stock reported to be on the market at the close of last week, the sales by the Treasury having been small, also the receipts from California. Unless the Treasury will sell more liberal, the premium is likely to advance for the coming week, since the supply of bonds quoted in Europe is nearly exhausted or held far above the market.

Government securities have been steadily going up during the week, and have advanced about 1½ per cent. for the entire list, and ten-forties about 2 per cent. Since the late rise, however, the demand for bonds outside of New York has ceased completely, and attention has been directed to the Union Pacific Railroad bonds, which are about ten per cent. cheaper than ten-forties. These bonds are now being bought up by shrewd financiers, for the purpose of gaining the gold interest due July 1st. Our friend Ph. R. Mertz has generally a supply on hand.

In Railroad shares the market was more animated to-day; the feature of the day was a strong upward tendency in Fort Wayne, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Ohio and Mississippi and the North Western shares. Express shares have slightly improved.

In our home securities a dullness prevails, such as is not often witnessed. For Insurance stocks there is no sale at all. Valley bonds are neither offered nor inquired for, nor are the Connellsville bonds or stocks in demand, although the road is going to be finished, and promises to be one of the best paying roads in the country.

Money is easy for all first-class borrowers. Business is unusually dull for the season.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 22, 1868.

The Crude Iron market has undergone no important changes since our last. The principle inquiry of the week were for fine Charcoal Irons. In low grades of irons, particularly Forge, the market was weak, and concessions were offering, but standard brands are in fair request at our quotations. Foundry Irons were dull and neglected. Material concessions were offering Rock descriptions, which is, probably, the reason why a certain commission house refuse to furnish sales. We quote the following sales:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 22, 1868.

There seems to be a slight improvement in the general markets, that is, the volume of business, in the aggregate, is increasing though the operations generally are of an unimportant character, as the demand is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants. There seems to be an almost entire absence of anything like a speculative feeling, which is owing to the doubt and uncertainty in regard to the future; one good result from this is the fact that it has a tendency to ease the money market, which is very desirable just at this particular juncture.

HAY—The supply in the Allegheny market was unusually light to-day, only 28 loads, which sold at from $18 to $28 per ton, according to quality.

MILL FEED—Sales of 130 bags Bran at $1,60. Middlings may be quoted at $2,15 to $2,20.

DRIED FRUIT—Is quiet but steady at 12 to 14c for Peaches, and 7 to 7½c for Apples.

BUTTER—Under the influence of large arrivals, the market is very dull, and prices have still further declined. We now quote good to prime Roll at 22 to 25c; we are cognizant of some 500 lbs of prime Roll having been sold at 22 to 23c.

EGGS—Unchanged at 20c. It is a remarkable fact that they are being retailed in many stores at the same figure.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is steady but unchanged; sale of 300 bushels prime Red at $2,68. Corn is steady, with a fair demand but unchanged; we can report a sale of 1 car prime Yellow at $1,12; quotations may be fairly given at $1,05 to $1,10. Oats firm, with a sale of 1,600 bushels, in elevator, at 85c, and 80 bags on wharf at 83c. Rye may be quoted steady at $2. No movement in Barley.

POTATOES—Sale of 1 car prime Peach Blows, in bulk, at $1,25. Small sales in store at $1,45 to $1,50.

APPLES—In light supply and quiet but unchanged, at $5 to $7 per bbl, according to quality.

SALT—Sales of Allegheny River brands to the trade at $1,75 to $1,80, and $2 for small lots in store.

HOMINY—Unchanged at $6 to $6,25.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 14½c for Shoulders; 16½ to 18½ for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 19½ for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; and 20½c for Canvassed do. Prime kettle Lard, 19½c, in tierces. Mess Pork, $20.

LARD OIL—Is still quoted by manufacturers at $1,25, for No. 2, and No. 1 at $1,50.

FLOUR—Is quiet and unchanged. We continue to quote at $11,25 to $11,75 for Spring Wheat; $12,50 to $13 for Winter Wheat; at $14 to $16 for fancy brrnds. Rye Flour, $10 to $10,25.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 22, 1868.

CRUDE—There was some little stir in the Crude market to-day, and while there was apparently a little firmer feeling, prices, compared with yesterday, have undergone no quotable change. We can report 3,000 bbls for June, seller's option, at 12c; 1,000 for May at 10½c; 1,000 do same delivery at 11c; 2,000 July, at 12½c, and 5,000, running from July to November, 1,000 each month, at 11½c. Spot oil, of which there is not much in market and what there is, is in the hands of a few dealers, may be quoted firm at 11c; June, seller,s option, 12c, and July 12½c. We have no late advices from Oil City, but there has been nothing to cause any material change in the situation there, unless, possibly, a little firmer feeling.

REFINED—There was a perfect deadlock in the market for bonded oil to-day, not a single sale reported either here or in Philadelphia—last evening there was a sale of 500 bbls, on spot, at 34c. A large number of May contracts fell due in Philadelphia to-day, and it was said that the sellers, most of whom are there, would not deliver the oil unles the buyers could produce the spot cash to pay for it, and up to this writing, no "tenders" had been made. How the matter will terminate we cannot at this writing state, though something definite will have to be done between now and 12 o'clock to-night, as the time for making deliveries expires with that hour. Of the 50,000 bbls called, it is thought, at least 40,000, or possibly, 45,000 bbls is there ready to be delivered, and if this supposition be correct, the short interest will not amount to much, though it is alleged by some that a "corner" could be made on the 5,000 or 10,000 bbls, or whatever amount there is short. It is probable that later intelligence in regard to the matter will be found in our telegraph news.

British dress goods of desirable styles in active request, but scarce and firm. Silks of all kinds, also, held with an increased firmness, and a positive advance has been established on many descriptions in sympathy with the advance abroad. Hosiery goods firmer but less active.

The Fiery Dove—Curious Religious Ceremony at Florence.

Yesterday the ceremony of the fiery dove came off with much eclat in the beautiful cathedral of Santa Maria del Flore. This is a very ancient and curious usage, dating from the 11th century. It is best known here as the scoppio del carro, or explosion of the cart. According to tradition a certain M. Pazzo del Pazzi—a name signifying, when literally translated, "madman of madmen"—was the best lance among the Italian paladins in the crusade just 780 years ago, and was the first to plant the Christian banner on Jerusalem's blood-stained walls. To reward his prowess Godfrey de Bouillon presented him with three small fragments of flint, chipped from the Holy Sepulchre. Brought to Florence, these were carefully preserved in a golden pyx, and since then, on every succeeding Saturday, in Passion week, a spark has been struck from them to light the altar-candles in the cathedral. A lofty car, or rather a tower upon wheels, hung with fire-works, and around the basement of which are old paintings, dim and blackened by time, of episodes in Pazzo's campaigns, is stationed opposite the chief entrance to that magnificent church, and is connected with the choir by a tightly strained rope passed up the centre aisle at about seven feet from the ground. At a certain moment of the mass a match is applied to a tin dove which is a sort of firework, and which flies along the rope, spitting out showers of sparks as it passes a little above the heads of the congregation, until, on reaching the car, it ignites the wheels and squibs and crackers fixed about it, and there is forthwith a prodigious crackling and fizzing, attended by much smoke, but little visible fire, for all this occurs about noon, and nothing is tamer than fireworks in broad daylight. The explosion at an end, four great white oxen, wreathed and shaded with branches, as in Leopold Robert's pictures, are yoked to the tower, which they drag off, slow and tottering, to the Palazzo Pazzi in a neighboring street, where more fireworks are let off, and the performance is over for the year. It appears that its cost used to be borne by the Plazzi family until a very recent date, when declining fortunes, or perhaps increasing taxation, made them desire to discontinue it on account of the expense. But the announcement of this intention caused quite a ferment in the surrounding country. With the flight of the dove, the peasantry for miles around connect the prospect of a good harvest. What the prompt and perfect liquefaction of St. Januarius' blood is to the Neapolitan, the uninterrupted flight of the tin colombina is to the Tuscan. If it sticks on the way, the prospect is bad, and hail or drought or some other disaster must be expected. The Florence municipality thought it expedient to keep up the usage at its own cost. It is to be hoped it found its reward in the gratification of the multitude of peasants, uncouth but gentle, who, with a sprinkling of Florentine idlers and curious foreigners, yesterday filled the cathedral and crowded about it. All went well enough to satisfy the most superstitious. At the appointed time the pigeon started from the altar, and shot along the rope, scattering sparks around, and, in spite of a drizzle of rain, the fire works crackled off merrily. The gentle mob (Italian crowds are generally extremely well behaved,) gradually streamed out of the church, and all was over until next year. The brown-visaged rustics who swarmed in the cathedral have returned to their hamlets with hearts of ease, confident of a first-rate vintage and copious corn crop. Italy has just now great need that the anticipation should be fulfilled.—Florence Correspondence London Times.

How an Eruption of Vesuvius Looks.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette, writing from Mount Vesuvius, April 4th, gives the following unusually clear and interesting account of one of the explosive exhibitions of that famous mountain.

"We heard several explosions as we came up the mountain, and had seen an occasional shower of sparks thrown up above the little crater; and these gradually increased until we had taken our stand as described. Then for more than two hours the hill above us continued to shoot forth an almost constant succession of explosions of brilliant burning stones. I hardly like to use the comparison, but I don't think I can give a better idea of it than by saying that each explosion was like a vast girandole of rockets, only that there was more speed about it, and more variety, owing to the different sizes of the stones shot out, and that there was more intense light at the first outburst than in the case of rockets. Flame there certainly was none—this we observed carefully; though the trails of the shooting stones, and the illuminated vapor, might almost excuse the word. The most of the discharges was not a bang; it was a pervading sound, almost exactly resembling the waves on a beach, and wind blowing through shrouds. It varied in intensity, and was nearly continuous, and of the character mentioned. The mountain trembled perceptibly enough during the whole of our stay.

It is impossible for me to calculate exactly, but I judged that there were from 1,000 to 1,500 stones in each great discharge—and there were often as many as eight or ten discharges in a minute. The majority of the stones were small, the largest, say as large as two bricks end to end. The large ones mostly fell back into the crater, but the small ones being thrown higher and more acted on by the wind, fell in immense numbers on the leeward slope of the small crater and on the same side of the great cone beyond. To my mind this was a spectacle hardly less striking than the discharges themselves; at any rate, it was quite new to me. I have heard it said that the cone becomes 'red hot' under such discharges. But this is not an accurate description of what I saw. 'Red' is not the word, but 'golden'; and the cone was not covered even by these copious showers. The sight was far more beautiful than if it had been so. The crowd of golden spots on the dead black surface—the small ones generally resting where they fell, while the large ones rolled through them down the slope, and the constant change as shower after shower descended, made a variegated and beautiful spectacle such as was of itself alone worth the ascent. It formed a wonderful pedestal to the explosions which surmounted it, and which were naturally the great attraction. I could not calculate the height to which some of the small stones were thrown, but it was very great. There was generally one which went far higher than all the rest, and pierced upward toward the moon, who looked calmly down mocking such vain attempts to reach her. The larger pieces were, with rare exceptions, not thrown so high; indeed many of them only just appeared over the rim of the cone, above which they came floating leisurely up to show their brilliant forms and intense white light for a second, and then subside again into the abyss."

THE Dayton Journal has discovered that the three English shillings coined in honor of Queen ANNE, in the year 1711, were sixpences; and claims that the third of the series is in the hands of Professor WISE, of that city, the other two being in the musty collection of the English Antiquarian Society.

GIRLS—A COMPOSITION.

BY A VERY SMALL BOY.

I don't like the girls. Girls is very different from what boys is. Girls don't play marbles, and also girls don't play hookey. I played hookey once and got whipped for it. Girls sometimes get whipped, but not so much as boys; their clothes ain't so well suited for it; that is the reason, I suppose. I never see no girls play base ball, but they say they do in Boston. I was never in Boston. There is plenty of girls in Boston and big organs. Last year when I was young the teacher made me set with the girls because I was naughty. I cried. Big boys like girls better than little boys. I went on a sleigh ride one night with my sister Nancy and Tom Sykes. We were going to New Hartford, and when we got up by Pegg's tavern, Tom asked me to look in the bottom of the sleigh for his whip, and while I was looking he fired off a torpedo. I asked him if he had any more torpedoes, and he said no, but he fired off another when I wasn't looking. Girls don't like to have men kiss them. They always say "don't." If they wasn't fools they would turn their heads the other way, but they never do that. I saw Tom kiss Nancy once and I went and told my mother. Then my mother put me to bed. When a girl takes out her handkerchief in the street to wipe her nose, the young men who earn their living by standing in front of the Pine Block always wipes their noses at the same time, if they see her. Girls get married sometimes, but not always. Those that don't get married don't want to. When they get married, they have wedding cake. I like wedding cake, but I do not see any fun in getting married—especially to a girl.

THE END.

VOTING in Greece is somewhat different from voting in America. The polling places are churches. Thirty ballot-boxes are placed on the floor of the church, each of them bearing the name of a candidate. Upon one half of the box, painted white, is written "Yes," and on the other half, painted black, is written "No." A clerk attends the voter, with thirty bullets, and, when opposite a box, pronounces the name of the candidate and hands the voter a bullet. Passing his arm up a funnel about a foot in length, the voter's hand arrives unseen at a division box, and he drops the ball to the right or left, "yes" or "no," as the case may be, and so on throughout the whole thirty. The system is said to insure secresy and perfect order.

I HEAR a good story of a colporteur who attempted to distribute some Spanish Testaments among the New Mexicans passing his house with trains. They would not take the books as a gift. So, knowing their propensity for pilfering, he hit upon the expedient of hiding the Testaments in various places about his premises, and they were always taken when a train passed. In that way a considerable amount of gospel was "distributed;" but probably most of it had still another distribution as wadding to Mexican guns.—Kansas Correspondent.

A SAILING SHIP, the Mercury, which left New York on April 9th, arrived at Havre on the 22d, making the voyage in a little over twelve days—almost the average speed of the steamers. This is said to be one of the shortest transatlantic passage of a sailing packet on record.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Meeting at City Hall.—A grand ratification meeting will be held at City Hall this evening, for the purpose of ratifying the action of the National Republican Convention at Chicago. Distinguished speakers are expected to address the meeting.

General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

At the conclusion of the proceedings of Thursday afternoon on the resolution in regard to the paper from the Reformed Presbyterian Synod, Dr. Wylie said it would be better to indicate what was to be done with the paper.

Mr. Stuart said he was present at the Protestant Episcopal Convention last week when that paper was read, and it was immediately laid on the table. A paper that contained such reflections on our country and Government should not be hastily presented.

After some further discussion the question was put on the question of accepting the paper for consideration. This motion was agreed to.

It was then moved that the paper be referred to a special committee.

After considerable discussion a motion was made to lay the paper on the table and lost by a vote of 24 to 20.

The question recurred on the motion to refer it to a committee, which was agreed to.

THIRD DAY—MORNING SESSION.

Synod met at nine o'clock and spent half an hour in devotional exercises, Rev. J. H. Cooper presiding. At the conclusion of the devotional exercises, the Moderator took the Chair and opened the Court with prayer. The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

Proceeded to the order of the day, hearing the delegate from the Reformed Church (formerly Dutch Reformed) of North America.

Rev. John Steele ascended the platform and spoke in substance as follows: Moderator and Brethren of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church—I have been honored in being made the bearer of the cordial greetings and Christian salutations of the Reformed Church of North America. Circumstances, he was sorry to say, prevented Dr. Gregory, the principal delegate, from being present. Nevertheless, he was glad to have the opportunity of being present in the meetings of this venerable body. Your time is precious, and matters of great importance will be brought before you. He would not therefore occupy much of their time.

He felt, from the kind and generous treatment and cordial reception he had received, that he was not a stranger among the members of the Court, although he had never met any of them before but one. He was convinced since he entered the venerable Assembly, that, like themselves, they belonged to the church "militant." They had their warm discussions, but, although warm, they were conducted in a Christian spirit.

He was happy to say that the Shorter Catechism was taught in their Sabbath School classes as much as their own Heidelburg Catchism. In the minutes of the Reformed Synod for last year he found an overture from the Classis of Greene "that the Catechisms of the Westminster Assembly be recognized by the church." His own church and the body he addressed were one on all doctrinal points.

In regard to organic union, his church had not looked with as much favor as others on the subject. They sent no delegates to the National Union Convention at Philadelphia. Some of their ministers were there, but they were there without authority. They did not think organic union a thing so greatly to be desired. They felt there was substantial union now. He coincided with the views of his own church on this subject.

Up to a recent date his church was known as the Protestant Reformed Dutch Church of North America. During the past year the foreign appellation had been dropped. They were no longer known as the "Dutch" church. It was opposed strongly at first, but was finally adopted with great unanimity. It was said they could not succeed in the West so long as they retained the appellation "Dutch." The General Synod voted almost unanimously for the change of name. It was sent down to the Classes, and they voted almost as unanimously in favor of the change.

As to statistics. They had the College and Seminary at New Brunswick, which was now fully endowed. They had also the Hope College in Holland City, Michigan. They had a General Synod, three particular Synods, thirty-two Classes, four hundred and forty churches, fifty ministers and fifty-eight thousand members.

In conclusion, he thanked the Synod for their Christian courtesy, and he would ever retain the most pleasant recollections of his visit to this venerable body.

On motion of Rev. Thomas Johnston, the Synod reciprocated the cordial salutations expressed by the delegate, and the Moderator in the name of Synod expressed their high satisfaction with the salutations which the delegate had conveyed from the respected body which he represented.

Dr. Steele, the Moderator, addressing the delegate, said: It affords me great pleasure to present to you and the body you represent, the kind and cordial greetings of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. He had listened with high satisfaction to the address he delivered, and was glad to hear of the prosperity of his church. There were many points of resemblance between them. Both were cradled amid storms. Both had been honored with being permitted to occupy high ground in carrying on the work of Reformation. The one originated in Continental and the other in Insular Europe. Both came across the water, and are now engaged in a good work. They are not foreign, but American churches. The change in your name recognizes that.

The two churches, as you remarked, are one in doctrine. When many who had entered into covenant bonds in Scotland had cast off their bonds, the youthful Renwick refused to accept ordination from the backsliding in his own land. At this time the classis of Groningen, through great condescension, set apart to the ministerial office, this youthful servant of God. This is an interesting reminiscence.

Both churches, as you remarked, are one in doctrine. The General Synod does not take the Confession of Faith in its mutilated form, as it has been mutilated in this country

On motion, the alternates were invited to seats as consultative members.

Dr. McLeod read the action of the different Presbyterian churches on the subject of union. His report was adopted.

The committee appointed to examine Mr. Thompson, reported that they had discharged their duty, and the examination was satisfactory.

Dr. Wylie reported that in accordance with the instructions of Synod, he had organized the Second Presbytery of Philadelphia. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence reported that they had received no communications to present to the Synod,

Dr. McMaster reported that he had been received most cordially by the Genesal Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, at Xenia, Ohio, last year.

Rev. Mr. Bratton reported that he had fulfilled his appointment as a delegate to the Reformed Presbyterian Synod which met in Allegheny last year. He was well received by some of the members. He was cordially received by the Moderator, who reciprocated the feelings expressed, in which he was joined by a large proportion of the members.

Mr. Bratton stated that it was his opinion that the General Synod should cease sending delegates to the Reformed Presbyterian Synod. He thought that body did not wish to continue the correspondence.

Resolved, That the correspondence between the General Synod and the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church be discontinued.

This motion was discussed at great length by Dr. McMaster, Dr. McLeod, Dr. Wilson, Mr. Bratton, Mr. Morton, G. H. Stuart and James Stewart.

Adjourned, Rev. Dr. McMaster concluding by prayer.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Synod met at three o'clock and was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Crawford. Minutes read and approved.

Rev. Michael Harshaw, chairman of the Committee on Devotional Exercises, presented their report. It is as follows:

The Committee would respectfully recommend that half an hour of each session be spent in devotional exercises under the charge of the Moderator or his alternate; and that the half hour be from half-past ten to eleven o'clock, during the morning session, and from four to half-past four o'clock, during the afternoon session.

Proceeded to the discussion of the resolution pending at the adjournment of the morning session, in relation to correspondence with the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

Dr. McMaster moved the following as a substitute for the resolution:

WHEREAS, After the reception of our delegate by the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, at the suggestion of some of the members after the delegate had retired, our Synod was spoken of in disrespectful terms, and the letters "N. L." appended to the name of the Church, and WHEREAS, it is evident from the statement of our delegate they do not wish the intercourse by delegation continued; therefore,

Resolved, That for the present we appoint no more delegates to that body.

After some discussion, Dr. McLeod moved that the whole subject be indefinitely postponed. On this the ayes and nays were called. It was decided in the affirmative.

The Moderator announced the following additional committees:

On Presbyterial Records.

Eastern Presbytery—Revs. J. F. Hill, and Thos. Johnston.

Northern Presbytery—Revs. J. H. Cooper, and Robert Matthews.

Philadelphia Presbytery—Revs. S. Wylie, and William M'Cornac.

Second Philadelphia Presbytery—Revs. A. R. Gailey, and James Stormant.

Pittsburgh Presbytery—Rev. Samuel Young and A. K. Hunter.

Chicago Presbytery—Rev. A. G. M'Auley, DD., and David Fields.

Western Presbytery—Rev. J. M'Milan and William Reid.

Reports of several Presbyteries were read and referred to the Committee on Presbyterial Reports.

Synod then spent half an hour in devotional exercises, Rev. Michael Harshaw presiding. The following gentlemen took part in the devotional exercises: Rev. Samuel Wylie, Rev. J. F. Hill and Rev. John Steele.

Synod then proceeded to business. On motion, the order of the day, the discussion of the subject of union, was postponed to Monday morning.

Reports of several Presbyteries were read and appropriately referred.

By common consent the business was suspended, to hear Judge Williams, of this city, who could not appear yesterday with the other members of the Committee appointed by the Philadelphia Convention to present the action of that Convention. Judge Williams said he did not come today with the view of addressing the Synod. The members of the Committee had done all that was necessary yesterday. He was not at the Convention, but he had read the proceedings with the greatest interest. He would have no objection to unite with this body. He could sing the one hundred and fifty psalms with them. He would ask the privilege of singing the hymns also. In his judicial experience he had tried a case in which the title of the very church property in which the Synod is assembled was involved. No trifles should be allowed to keep the churches apart. We should present a united front to the common enemy. There is no church in which all men think alike. He would not like to be a member of such a church. There must be some concession and liberty if we are to have union.

At the conclusion of the address of Judge Williams Synod proceeded to business.

The report of the Pittsburgh Presbytery was referred to the appropriate Committee. The papers containing reasons of protest and answers thereto were laid on the table for the present.

A communication was read covering the action of missionaries in Sabaranpur, India, on the subject of union. The paper was laid on the table.

A remonstrance from members, elders, and others of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, asking for a redress of certain grievances, was read by the stated clerk.

The reading of the memorials, protests and appeals, declinatures, &c., connected with this case occupied considerable time.

It was moved that the papers be received.

Dr. Wylie said that these papers were introduced in a very disorderly way. They were introduced very adroitly at the time when all were anxious to adjourn.

Dr. McLeod said the papers had been lying on the table since yesterday and came up in regular order.

Dr. Wylie thought it was unfair to present the papers which had not—at least most of them—been made known to the parties concerned.

Mr. Geo. H Stuart endorsed all that had been said by Dr. Wylie. All the objection he had to his remarks was that they were not strong onough. He confessed he had sung hymns, but he had not done it in a corner. The whole course is irregular, inasmuch as the libels had not been read in the session. He was not afraid to meet the question. But he hoped the matter would be conducted in an orderly manner.

Adjourned to meet this morning at 9½ o'clock, Rev. Dr. Douglas concluding by prayer.

A Disorderly Woman.—Timothy Gorman made information before Alderman Strain, yesterday, charging Mrs. Shannon with disorderly conduct. Timothy resides on Grant street, in the Third ward, and he alleges that Mrs. Sbannon came to his house a few evenings since and abused him and his family by calling them all sorts of names, and that she used obscene language. He further alleges that she threatened to take his life, upon which an information for surety of the peace was taken. She was arrested and held for a hearing.

New Goods at an Old House—Grand Opening at Joseph Horne & Co.'s, 77 and 79 Market Street.

Yesterday we referred to the fact that Messrs. Joseph Horne & Co. had received a large fresh invoice of new millinery, trimming and general straw goods. The recent addition to the stock of goods is particularly large and varied, embracing a numberless variety of articles for the use of both ladies and gents. The gentlemen among our readers will find here a large assortment of straw hats, in all the leading styles of the article. In spite of the discouraging weather this season, the time for straw hats is actually at hand at last, and those articles of head gear are just now an object of no small interest to the male fraternity. Those wishing entire sotisfaction as to style, quality and price, should not fail to give Messrs. Horne & Co. a call. The ladies will find an equally satisfactory assortment of straw bonnets, all the fashions and shades of fashions being represented. They will also find in infinite variety, colored laces, crapes, manes, millinery laces, edgings and other articles of that line. The assortment of rich and beautiful artificial flowers, is particularly large, and comprises all the latest novelties. Ribbons of all the most desirable varieties and shades are offered in abundance. The straw trimmings and bonnet ornaments are exceedingly beautiful selections from a stock just imported. There is "no end" of millinery goods, comprising laces, crapes, rich assortment of dress trimmings, fringes, head fringes, gimps, braid headings. The stock also comprises parasols and sun umbrellas, of the most acceptable styles. Embroideries, stamped goods, white goods, gents' neck ties, gloves, hosiery, and furnishing goods in general, are offered for sale, as also hoop skirts, corsets, balmorals, belts, beltings, travelling satchels and fancy goods. We trust that none of our readers will fail to miss the opportunity presented for rare selection and choice bargains.

A Great Agricultural Achievement.

At the extensive and favorably known agricultural implement and seed depot of Messrs. Beckham & Long, 127 Liberty street, near the mouth of Fifth street, there is on exhibition one of the most marvelons pieces of American ingenuity we have ever been called on to examine. It is the Champion self-raking reaper and mower combined, which is constructed on such correct principles as will ensure its universal adoption by our agricultural friends. The great difficulty hitherto experienced in self-reapers is to place the arms in the control of the driver so that he may regulate the size of the sheaf, providing for the light or heavy grain. This has been fully accomplished in the Champion, which is light, simple and durable, and the rake is entirely under the control of the operator, and can be changed to rake any sized bundles in the most perfect manner while the machine is in motion. As a grain cutter this machine has no equal; while as a grass cutter, it is equal to any single mower in the market. It accomplishes its work and precision and nicety and is destined to receive universal approval and adoption. Messrs Beckham & Long will have none of these machines for sale this year, as the manufacturers cannot supply them, there being such a demand for them, so that those wishing to examine this one should call early before it is shipped to the purchaser. This firm are the exclusive agents for Western Pennsylvania for the Buckeye and Russel self reapers, and deal wholesale and retail in agricultural machinery of all kinds, such as Mowers and Reapers, Threshers, Grain Drill, Cider Mills, Sulky Corn Plows, Dog Powers, Corn Shellers, Plows, Harrows, Cultivators, and a general assortment of Landreth's Field and Garden Seeds, Fruit Trees, Vines and Evergreens.

Musical.

We are much pleased to learn that the Pittsburgh Female College, one of the largest and most influential institutions in the State, has lately made such additions to its department of music as to require not less than seven additional pianos, the contract for which has just been awarded to Messrs. Wm. Knabe & Co., of Baltimore, through their enterprising agent here, Charlotte Blume, No. 45 Fifth street. The Committee, after a lengthy and careful examination of all the first-class pianos in the market, decided the "Knabe" piano to be decidedly the best instrument, combining great power, purity and swestness of tone, and easy and elastic touch, with the greatest possible durability, and we congratulate the institution on their acquisition.

The following letter from the chairman of the Committee speaks for itself:

PITTSBURGH, May 18, 1868.

CHARLOTTE BLUME—Dear Madam:—The Committee appointed by the Trustees of the Pittsburgh Female College, to purchase pianos, after carefully examining all the bids, have awarded to you the contract for furnishing seven William Knabe & Co. pianos, as per bid submitted by Mr. Knabe and yourself. JOS. PLUMMER, Chairman.

A Model Establishment.

One of the many improvements which marks the progress of our city is the elegantly furnished and well appointed restaurant at 105 Fifth street, over which Mr. P. H. Maguire presides. The establishment is a perfect model in its line, and is just such an one as we have long needed in this city. It is conveniently arranged, with a separate apartment for ladies, furnished in magnificent style, which, taken in connection with its very pleasant and convenient location, will doubtless make it the most popular restaurant in the city. The tables are always supplied with the best of everything in the market, including all the delicacies of the season. Mr. Maguire is well known in the city, having been in the business for a number of years, and the public may feel assured that the establishment will be conducted so as to give general satisfaction to its patrons.

Plumbing and Gas Fitting.

At this season of the year, when all are engaged in repairing, it is sometimes difficult to obtain competent and experienced workmen. This is the case particularly as to plumbing and gas fitting, and it is doubtless a great annoyance to those wanting work done promptly and in good style. To all desiring work in that line, and at short notice and reasonable prices, we would say call at No. 165 Wood street, at the establishment of T. T. Ewens, plumber and gas fitter. Mr. Ewens employs none but the most experienced workmen, and uses the best material, consequently his work is always satisfactory. His charges are reasonable, and he is a pleaaant and agreeable man to deal with. Remember the place is T. T. Ewens, 165 Wood street.

This day will be offered at private sale, at the auction salesrooms of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, a very fine selection of custom-made boots and shoes for men, women and children. This stock is superior and fashionable, being of first-class workmanship and latest styles. The prices are much lower than the cost of manufacture. For decided bargains in good goods we urge our readers to pay the Masonic Hall Auction House a visit.

Committed.—William Turner, it appears had been indulging to a great extent in bock beer, Thursday evening, and when he came out of a saloon on Federal street was so much intoxicated that he fell through a show window at Mr. Simons' confectionary. He was arrested and yesterday morning the Mayor imposed a fine for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. In default he was committed for ten years.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—"Tangled Threads," a sensational drama of considerable merit, was unraveled to a mere shadow of an audience at this place last evening, and the unknowing few who were in attendance expressed decided dissatisfaction with the entertainment afforded. We do not know what combined to keep away the amusement lovers, but the terribly monotonous array of empty benches in the dress circle, and the sickly appearance of the galleries told that the measure of the peoples' wrath has not yet been fully visited on an unsuccessful and unpopular management which is being mercilessly crushed beneath the weight of public opinion. The downward course of this place is no very remarkable instance of the people's temper, for we have hitherto seen itinerant organ grinders and broken down showmen who came hither to cater to the wants of the intellectual and refined portions of the community, put through the same trying ordeal as that which is now crippling the energies of the management and sealing the doom of the ill-fated establishment. That first class stars, such as Miss Price for instance, should be enticed into accepting an engagement at a place of such low order as that of the Opera House, is not only an act of personal injustice, but an outrage on genius and an unwarranted insult to those who fill the higher walks of the histrionic profession.

But another week remains of the season when the green curtain will drop to hide, we trust, forever, the disgraceful scenes which have characterized the theatrical boards during the past amusement term at the Opera House. If the management will show any desire to reform the character and elevate the tone of the place the GAZETTE will be the first to laud, approve and encourage the efforts in those directions, but until Pittsburgh has a respectable first-class place of umusement, which her people can amply afford to keep up, we cannot be bought or cowed into sustaining that which is unworthy countenance, much less praise and support.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Another overflowing house was in attendance at this place of amusement last night. A great Saturday night's bill is offered.

BURNELL'S MUSEUM.—The attractions at this permanently located museum at Franklin Hall are being daily increased.

Where to Purchase.

The old and well established Tea Mart of Joseph Robinson, No. 21 Fifth street, is one of the principal houses in the city, and buyers will find an excellent stock of Teas, Coffees, and Spices from which to make their purchases. Mr. Robinson buys direct from the importers instead of purchasing from jobbers, and thereby saves the jobber's profits, in consequence of which he is enabled to sell his goods at a much lower rate than those who do not purchase in this way. He keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of every variety of Teas, Coffees, and Spices, of the very best quality, and sells them at reasonable rates. Mr. Robinson enjoys a high reputation among the business men of the city, and we have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending him to the public as worthy of their patronage.

Still Another.

Prosecutions for keeping bawdy houses are becoming almost as common as surety of the peace cases. Scarcely a day passes during which some poor erring female is required to answer a charge of that character. What the result of this raid on the erring creatures may be we are unable to say, but so far we fail to perceive any marked change in the morals of this wicked city. The last is an information before Alderman McMasters by Mannus Gallaher, charging Frank Foster, a resident of Poplar alley, in the Sixth ward, with keeping a house of ill repute. Frank is said to be a hardened sinner, and it is scarcely probable that she will be at all benefitted by the prosecution. She was held to bail for her appearance at Court, in default of which she was committed to jail.

Preaching To-Morrow.

It will be seen from the scale of appointments given elsewhere that that distinguished and eloquent divine, Rev. John N. McLeod, D. D., of New York, will preach in the First Reformed Presbyterian Church (Dr. Douglas') of this city, to-morrow afternoon at half-past two o'clock. Dr. McLeod has been long recognized as a leading member of the Reformed Presbyterian Church and an able preacher. His sermon to-morrow afternoon will richly repay all who may find it convenient to attend. Rev. Samuel Young, of Illinois, and Rev. W. J. McDowell, of New York, will preach in Dr. Douglas' church at ten and a half o'clock A. M. and seven and a half P. M. These are both excellent preachers, and stand high as pulpit orators.

Arrested for Forestalling.

Mrs. W. G. Wamhoff, a grocer on Wylie street, was arrested yesterday by officer Wrigley, market constable, on a charge of forestalling the market. It appears that the accused purchased a large quantity of vegetables, which led to the arrest. He taken to Alderman Humbert's office where, upon a hearing, it was shown by a telegram that the articles purchased were for the proprietor of the Petroleum House at Oil City, and were to be forwarded to him by railroad. The Alderman discharged Mr. Wamhoff. The constable did right in making the arrest, as it was quite reasonable to suppose that the articles purchased by the grocer would be exposed to sale again.

A full attendance of members is requested, as business of importance is to be transacted. George H. Stuart, Esq., of Philadelphia, and other prominent christian workers are expected to be present.

Larceny.—John Lewis made information before Alderman Thomas yesterday, charging James Griffin with larceny. Lewis is a carpenter and was engaged in building a house in the Eighth ward, where he alleges the accused came to see him and on leaving carried off a brass plumb valued at $3. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

The Styles which have thus far made their appearance on our fashionable thoroughfares, the only promenades we have, display a marked improvement over those in vogue last year. We were much pleased with the charming and pretty novelties in the the way of lace goods, embroideries and trimmings, which have just been introduced at the fashionable retail trimming and notion house of W. W. Moorhead, No. 81 Market street. These, together with the full line of straw goods on hand are very pretty, and when more generally introduced will materially change the prevailing styles. Mr. Moorhead derives much just pride in being always amongst the very first to introduce the new styles in this community and his store is already favorably known by all the ladies. His goods are chosen with much care and judgment, and his prices are always reasonable.

Don't Fail to See It.—To all those seeking homes or investments, we know of no better medium through which to obtain information than the Real Estate Register, published by Croft & Phillips, 139 Fourth street. The Marbleized Marble Mantles manufactured at W. W. Wallace's extensive steam marble works, Nos. 335 and 337 Liberty street, are coming into very general use, being vastly superior and much more beautiful than the regular marble hitherto used. Persons building new houses should not fail to examine into the merits of these artistic productions. They are cheap in comparison with marble and will prove much more durable, retaining for all time their marvellous lustre and beauty.
